CROCHET FOR A CAUSE

To accompany reading "Who was Princess Diana" we have started an ongoing service project. We have been teaching the students how to crochet. Our hope is that they will continue to learn, and each have some part in making small blankets that can be donated to local animal shelters.

Crochet has many different steps and various stitches that can be learned. We have told students not to expect to get it all on the first try. We try to teach and practice a little bit more each week. YouTube is a great resource if students want to watch and practice at home.

Winter Weather Policy

We will go outside if temperatures are 15° F or above.

Please make sure you are sending your child with gloves, hat, coat, and boots (when snow is present.) We do allow children to change shoes when needed.

Point Park Student Teachers

We had the pleasure of observing a student teacher as they learn lesson design and execution.

There was a series of three lessons on all the Pittsburgh sports.

Students enjoyed learning about Pittsburgh history and designing unique keepsakes about our beloved city.

Library Book Requests

We are giving our little Howe Library a make-over. The shelves need reorganizing, but we are also in need of more recent favorites. Is there a series that your child loves?

Do you have any early reading books you are looking to pass along? "How To..." craft books are great for the kids to pick club ideas and learn how to lead their friends in activities. We are happy to give them a second home and many new learners to enjoy them!

Reward Day Challenge

Our students have 8 more letters to earn and only 9 more days left before the winter break! We are hoping they will earn another reward day before we leave! It will definitely be down to the wire, so at the very least we should return to the new year with a reward day! Ask them how it is going and what the group is doing well.
